

Get Paid to Upgrade Your Old Vibrator

MyPleasure.com Announces the Cash for Sex Toy Clunkers Program

SAN BRUNO, Calif., September 1, 2009 – It pays to upgrade. As the government's Cash for Clunkers program draws to an end, MyPleasure.com, a leading online sex toy retailer and education resource, is extending the initiative and helping to stimulate the economy in its own way by offering a cash incentive for customers who want to upgrade to the sex toys they've been wanting.

Customers who send in an unwanted sex toy (one per customer) will receive a ten dollar credit good for purchase of any new toy that's hopefully greener and more stimulating. A new sex toy is one of the easiest ways to spice up the bedroom routine – alone or with a partner – and now there's no reason why the fun shouldn't be reintroduced by taking advantage of this program. Check out these latest toys available at MyPleasure.com here:

- The ultra-powerful Fairy Mini Wand, a compact version of the world's more popular sex toy, the Hitachi magic wand, sold exclusively in the U.S. at MyPleasure.com.
- The most classic and adored vibrator, the Jack Rabbit Vibrator is perfect for when you're feeling a little frisky but won't disappoint with its rotating pearls feature, ultimately leaving you completely satisfied.
- If Cash for Clunkers has inspired you to be greener, trade-in that old vibrator for one of the many green adult toys offered on the site.

While Cash for Clunkers has created over a 50 percent increase in fuel economy, MyPleasure.com hopes to create a 100 percent increase in sexual satisfaction. For more information, great sex tips, Q&As with CEO Dr. Sandor Gardos, adult shopping and more, visit www.mylpleasure.com.
